Important notes

Allergen labelling (EU FIC)

Allergens are labelled under the EU Food Information Regulation on the basis of the ingredients used. Despite the greatest care in preparation, cross-contamination cannot be ruled out entirely.

Additives

Individual components may contain additives, e.g. in cured meats, sauces or dressings. A detailed list is available on request.

Raw or not fully cooked components

Some dishes may contain raw or not fully cooked components, e.g. fish or egg. They are eaten at your own risk and are not recommended for pregnant women, small children, older people or people with weakened immune systems.

Meat

All the meat we use is halal-certified.

Changes and seasons

We reserve the right to seasonal changes and to production-related variations in individual components.

Prices

All prices are net, plus statutory VAT, per piece or portion. The VAT rate depends on the service (delivery or service on site) and is shown in the quote and the invoice. This menu is intended exclusively for businesses; private customers find the menu with gross prices on caterlove.de.
